

YES! I believe counselling will help. Please put my gift to good use.

Our services help people like Adam:

"I didn't think I would ever get along with my parents. Mostly, we argued, but now I know I can really talk with them, and they'll listen. The counsellor helped me to better understand my parents and realize that not "everything" is their fault. I am learning to be responsible for my part too and that's making it better for all of us."

- Adam, 15 years old
